

Compressors

A compressor is a mechanical device that increases the pressure of a gas by reducing its volume. An air compressor is a specific type of gas compressor.

Features

- Low maintenance
- Quality tested
- Precisely engineered