

Intensive Dampener

Intensive dampener is normally used just before the grain milling process for the water being sprayed on the wheat in small percentage in order to soften the grain hull. Intensive Dampener Machine make it more elastic and in short make grain breakage easier without crushing the bran.

