

Pulse oximeter

Pulse oximeter is a small, lightweight device used to monitor the amount of oxygen carried in the body.

This non-invasive tool attaches painlessly to your fingertip, sending two wavelengths of light through the finger to measure your pulse rate and how much oxygen is in the body and will display the percent of oxygen in your blood coming from your heart—as well as your current pulse rate.