

Bifurcated Fan

Product Description

We are a renowned and established manufacturer and supplier of Bifurcated Fan. It is manufactured using high grade components that are procured from reliable vendors of the market. These fans are widely used for exhausting fumes, gases and hot air. These are direct driven axial fans, whose motor is housed in a metal box in order to isolate it from airflow. Our complete range of Bifurcated Fan is duly checked on well defined parameters prior to dispatch to ensure full customer satisfaction.

Features:

- Rugged construction
- Smooth surface finishing
- Efficient and reliable functionality
