

Leaf Chains

Leaf chain is a roller less chain that is commonly used on forklift trucks and in other material handling applications. Leaf chain is constructed of steel link plates mounted side-by-side on pins. Leaf chain is used in tension linkage applications, where the chain is kept in tension and can be moved in either direction. We are amongst reliable leaf chain manufacturers and suppliers in India.

We are Mumbai based company who offers all types of leaf chains in India. We manufacture our products as per the latest industrial norms and parameters. Our offered these products are highly appreciated by the clients for its high quality raw material and higher functional strengths. Moreover it can easily be installed at anywhere.

We have highly skilled and experienced professionals with us in our manufacturing unit who delivers optimum performance in manufacturing, supplying and wholesaling a wide assortment of these kinds of products. We offer our leaf chains in various range, sizes and specifications to our customers as per their demand. Thus we are counted amongst one of the leading industrial leaf chain manufacturers, suppliers and exporters in Mumbai, India.