

Transfer Trollys

Product Description

Transfer trollies are required in plants/site to transfer load from one shed/bay to another. These can be operated manually or electrically. These trollies find major application in transferring molten material from furnace to casting areas.

