

Cogged Belt

It is made as a flexible belt with teeth molded onto its inner surface. It runs over matching toothed pulleys or sprockets. When correctly tensioned, they have no slippage and are often used to transfer motion for indexing or timing purposes (hence their name). They are often used in lieu of chains or gears, so there is less noise and a lubrication bath is not necessary

Notes: Notes: All type of banded belts are available as per client requirement.

Category: Uncategorized.

- Description

Product Size

XPZ	XPA	XPB	XPC	AX	BX	CX	3VX	5VX	8VX
10X8	13X10	16X13	22X18	13X8	17X11	22X14	10X8	16X13	25X23

