

Gas Mixtures

We hold expertise in offering a superior quality range of Benzene Gas Mixtures. The offered range is a mixture of benzene and allied gases in different compositions. These mixtures are widely demanded by our clients for their pure composition. The most common application of these mixtures can be seen in glues, paints, furniture wax, and detergents. We make sure to deliver the consignments to clients doorsteps with utmost care within the desired time-frame.

Backed by rich industry experience, we are presenting vast variety of Argon Gas Mixtures. These gas mixtures are widely acclaimed by our clients for various scientific as well as commercial purposes. Offered in customization with other mixtures these gas mixtures are acclaimed for their attributes such as non-toxic, pure composition and easy to store.

Our company specializes in offering qualitative range of Ammonia Gas Mixtures. The offered gas mixture is processed using ammonia gas, which is produced from the decay process of nitrogenous animal & vegetable matter and found in the atmosphere in small quantities. The entire range is available in a customized form with different mixture composition as per the needs of our clients. Further specifications of these mixtures are listed below: