

Needle Valve

A needle valve is a small piece of equipment that is used to gradually stop the flow of the steam, oil, gas, air and etc. It can also be used for accurate flow regulation even though it is at a slower rate, i.e. in vacuum systems or gas lasers.

