

Electric Actuators

Electric actuators can replace the hydraulic systems by self-automated actuators which run on electrical power, eliminating the need for hydraulic pumps and tubing, delivering precision and repeatability. As they are programmable, the electric actuators are able to adapt to any situation, and hence are useful for many applications such as aircrafts.

