

Magnetic Separator

A Magnetic Separator is a device used to remove ferrous and non-ferrous contaminants from a variety of materials. It works by utilizing powerful magnets to attract and hold onto the magnetic particles, while allowing the non-magnetic particles to pass through. Magnetic Separators are widely used in industries such as mining, food processing, pharmaceuticals, and recycling, among others.