

Conical Strainer

More cost effective, Conical Strainers strainer are temporary Strainers used mostly before start up of a Plant use perforated wire or mesh to trap suspended solids from a process stream. Conical strainers are usually installed horizontally in a piping system.

Conical strainer are commonly used in pipelines to prevent damage of Gauges, pumps, control valves, Flow meters and other process equipment.

- Fabricated Conical strainers from 2" to 24" (larger sizes are available)
- Designed in accordance with ASME Section VIII Div. 1.
- Standard design pressures include 150#.
- Conical strainer available in CS,CSRL,SS304,SS316,Duplex,Super Duplex.
- Conical strainer are available in both Basket type and Cone Type Temporary Strainers.