

About Us

Falcon Valves & flanges pvt ltd is specialized in the manufacturing and exporting of both forged, cast stainless steel, carbon steel Valves & flanges. We also supply exotic metal Valves & flanges as per our client requirement.

The company has more than 20 years experience of the manufacture and exporting in the related field. The company is committed to the quality products, timely delivery and reliable service, which makes us keep a very strong and close relationship with our clients worldwide and enjoy the good reputation.

The quality and the performance of the gamut are inspected by the experts for maintaining the precision in the quality. It is always ensured that the consignment is completed within specified period of time and all the equipment are made according to the requisite norms and standards.

Our Team

FALCON have an unrivalled team of staff, strong in terms of both experience and customer service. Our sales staff have years of technical sales and service experience within market. This accumulated experience provides customers with full technical back-up and advice in selecting the right product to do the job from the varied range we have to offer.

Quality is strictly maintained by them throughout the manufacturing process right till the delivery of the products to provide maximum clients satisfaction

Why Us?

We are known for the durability and reliability of our products and thus we are the primary choice of our clients for the following reasons:

- Increased knowledge and domain expertise
- Advanced manufacturing facilities
- Highly efficient products
- Delivery on time
- Excellent sales service
- Ethical business practices
- Industry leading prices

WE ARE COMMITTED TO

- Customers' need & expectation by supplying International Quality Valves & Flanges and allied products to their entire satisfaction.
- Continuous & Indigenous improvement of Methods, Processes, Equipment's and Techniques, to establish identity of the organization in the National and International markets.
- Develop Human Resources through training, motivation and support, for achieving overall organizational development and growth.

