WHY Cresstar Valves?

Every valve from Cresstar is put through the paces – a rigorous design validation process at our extensive facilities in-house. Valves are tested repeatedly – some till the valve actually gives way – in conditions which replicate actual service and even potential extreme and emergency service, in an accelerated process. We thus say with pride that the valve is made to work thru the intended design life – and not just perform during factory tests. We also say that we know exactly how the valve will perform in service.
